LOCAL MATTERS

Fun rises tomorrow at 7:02 a. m. and sets at 4:38 p. m. High water at 1:05 a. m. and 1:42 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section rain tonight; Wednesday clearing and colder; brisk north to northwest winds.

DEATH OF COLONEL HOME.—Mr. Frank Home, of the county, received information this morning of the sudden death from heart trouble of his kinsman, Colonel David Milne Home, of Wedderburn Castle, Breckinridge, Scotland, at the age of sixty-three years. The colonel in company of his daughter and cousin, Admiral St. Clair, arrived at Eyemouth to inspect the damage done by the late storm to the sea wall, and on reaching the train to return home, his death took place. He was colonel of the Royal Horse Guards and took part under Lord Wolsey in the Egyptian campaign, leading in the famous midnight charge of the English cavalry at Kassassin. He was subsequently decorated by the late Queen Victoria at Windsor for his services in the Egyptian war, receiving a medal and star of the Ottoman. Col. Home when a captain was commissioned by his government to convey to Lord Lyons a demand on the United States government for the unconditional surrender of Mason and Slidell. For many years he served as a member of parliament, having been elected as a conservative. He married Jane, daughter of Sir Thos. Buchanan Hepburn, Bart., and leaving nine children. Besides his wife and grand children, he was the proprietor of Cairdrie, Eyemouth, and Paxton near Breckinridge. These old and beautiful estates have been in the Home family many centuries and are historically among the most interesting in Scotland.

THE WEATHER.—Between ten and eleven o'clock last night the stars grew dim and the indications of falling weather became general. About midnight rain set in and it has continued to fall at intervals ever since. The day has been dark and exceedingly dismal and people compelled to be out have been subjected to much inconvenience. There were, however, but few people on the streets, and they hurried along as fast as possible. Around the wharves the scene was especially dismal. On the Virginia street the railroad tracks and canal formed. Pedestrians compelled to move about that thoroughfare jumped from mound to mound in order to keep from going over their shoetops. On the Strand mud added to the discomfort occasioned by submerged sidewalks and miniature lakes. There were no arrivals nor departures save the regular steamers. The northeast wind came in heavy flaps and the Maryland shore was at times obscured. In other sections of the city the discomfort was marked and all who could retreated to shelter as soon as possible.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.—R. E. Lee Camp Confederate Veterans held their regular monthly meeting at the Camp Hall last night. Commander Gorman presiding. But little business of importance was transacted other than appointing a committee to make arrangements for the observance of Gen. R. E. Lee's birthday on January 19, 1902. The following committee were appointed: On orators—Comrades K. Kemper, Edgar Warfield and J. M. Johnson. On banquet—Comrades Thos. Perry, A. C. Wyckoff, F. J. Davidson, G. Wm. Ramsay and E. O. Graham. After close of business the camp listened to a very interesting reading by Comrade Chas. S. Taylor of an address by Hor. W. B. Cameron before a F. H. Camp of Petersburg, January 19 last.

TRAMP BEGGARS.—As winter approaches the tramp beggar makes his appearance, and as he is being ousted from his lodging quarters in the station house these characters scatter toward different parts of the city for the purpose of begging their breakfasts. They wait until they see the man of the house leave for work, then approach and make their wares known to the female inmates. While none can conscientiously turn a hungry person from the door, the fact remains that the larger percentage of tramps which always infest the country could find employment if they really wished it. They certainly could at this time, and there is but little excuse for their normal life.

THE UNION DEPOT SITE.—Senator McMillan, Chairman of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia, A. J. Cassatt, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and Mr. Burnham, Chairman of the Park Commission, and the architect for the design of the union station in Washington, held an informal conference today in the room of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia and discussed plans for the union depot authorized by the last Congress. It is believed that the depot will be located north of Massachusetts avenue, on the line of the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. This location is said to have the approval of the District of Columbia Commissioners.

ANOTHER VICTIM.—Another victim of the barbarous and inhuman treatment of the members of their crews by the captains of the oyster boats lies at the Emergency Hospital, Washington, with a severe case of inflammatory rheumatism and frozen feet. He is Martin M. Simmons, twenty years old, of Baltimore. After two months' work he was put ashore Saturday at Redmond's Wharf, below Colonial Beach, with only $2. He was taken to Washington Sunday night on the steamer Harry Randall and sent to the hospital. The other victim of savage treatment on a dredger, Edward Heitz, grows weaker every day.

THE MEMORIAL BRIDGE.—Representative Rixey, of Virginia, yesterday introduced a bill to appropriate $5,000,000 for the construction of a memorial bridge across the Potomac to Arlington National Cemetery. The bill has been pending before Congress for several years, and two years ago it came within a few votes of passing the House in the shape of a "senate amendment to an appropriation bill." Mr. Rixey will press the early consideration of the bill.

CONCERT.—As has been stated, there will be a concert in Christ Church Parish Hall tonight. A large number of well known singers from this city and Washington will take part, among others Dr. Bischoff, the well known vocal teacher, and Prof. Olmstead, of Washington. This will undoubtedly be one of the best concerts given here in a long time, considering the large number of tickets that have been sold, a full house is expected. The following will be the programme:

Mr. Dodge having recently graduated from the law department of the National University. He at one time held a position in the internal revenue office in this city.

RETURNS TO ST. ELIZABETH'S.—Mrs. Katherine S. Mackey was returned to the Government Hospital for the insane yesterday evening, voluntarily accompanying an attendant of the institution from the home of a former Mr. Mackey, near Roselyo. An effort of Judge Thomas S. Mackey, her husband earlier in the day to induce her to return was ineffectual. Mrs. Mackey disappeared Saturday evening while being escorted from Chase's Theatre, where she had attended a performance, as she had frequently done on previous occasions, in company with an attendant from the institution.

LONG-DISTANCE TELEPHONE.—Numbers of people in Leesburg, appreciating the great convenience of a long-distance telephone, are urging the construction of a line between that town and this city and Washington. A number of gentlemen are interesting themselves in the movement and it is hoped by all interested that the three places may soon be united by telephone.

THE NEW EMANCIPATION.—Ex-Congressman Geo. H. White, colored, will speak at Roberts Chapel, M. E. Church tomorrow, Wednesday, night at 8 p. m. on "The New Emancipation of the Negro." Paul Lawrence Dunbar will recite one of his own favorite poems. Judson W. Lyons, registrar of the Treasury, will be present and speak.

POLICE COURT.—There were no cases for trial in the Police Court this morning, and the officers had nothing special to report. The city has been in a tranquil condition for some time, no disorders being reported and but few complaints made. Thirteen lodgers were at the station house last night.

TAX SALE.—The city property advertised on the fourth page of the Gazette as delinquent for taxes will be sold at public auction in front of the City Hall tomorrow. The sale will begin at ten o'clock and be continued from today until all is disposed of.

OPERA HOUSE. Fitz & Webster, the managers of "A Breezy Time," have a scientific novelty that will prove interesting to young and old. It is the Indian Fortune Teller, a mechanical invention that will tell your fortune correctly. This wonder will be at the ad space on the day of the performance of "A Breezy Time."

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day. How to Cure Croup. Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Amelia, Dabney county, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent and break the attack.
